RESIDENCY CLASSIFICATION DETERMINES IN-STATE/OUT-OF-STATE FEES

A Florida "resident for tuition purposes" is a person who has, or a dependent person whose parent or legal guardian has, established and maintained legal residency in Florida for at least 12 months. Residence in Florida must be as a bonafide domicile rather than for the purpose of maintaining a residence incident to enrollment at an institution of higher education. To qualify as a Florida resident for tuition purposes, you must be a US Citizen, permanent resident alien, or a legal alien granted indefinite stay by the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Persons not meeting the 12-month legal residence requirement may be classified as a Florida resident for tuition purposes only if they fall within one of the limited special categories authorized by the Florida legislature. All other persons are ineligible for classification as a Florida resident for tuition purposes. Living in or attending school in Florida will not, in itself, establish legal residence. Students dependent on out-of-state parental support are presumed to be legal residents of the same state as their parents.

NON-FLORIDA RESIDENTS

I understand that I do NOT qualify as a Florida resident for tuition purposes at this time. If I should qualify in the future, I understand that I will be required to provide documentation of proof prior to the beginning of the term for consideration as a Florida resident.
